

Alberta Authors

These photographs are part of a long-term personal documentary project focusing on Canadian authors, poets, playwrights and journalists. It is my hope that these images will help to introduce Canadian writers and their works to a larger audience.

This project, which I'm calling Faces Behind the Page, has been underway for over four years. Writers have been photographed at their homes and offices and at readings in various venues, including local bookstores and at every Wordfest in Calgary since its inception. This past October I also photographed at the Vancouver Writers (& Readers) Festival.

A larger selection of the photographs can be seen in a permanent display at Pages Books on Kensington in Calgary.
